A message from Miss Allison

Dear families

There is so much to share as this has been another brilliant week at Broomfield. Our lovely Year 1 children had a great time at Stonehurst Farm learning about where food comes from and seeing the animals too. I had hoped that they would bring me back a baby goat but got a hand harvested bag of potatoes instead! We are hoping that our catering team can use them in our menu at some point. They really had a wonderful visit.

On Monday, it was the first football match of the season and our Y6 team played really well and drew one match and won the others. So far, we are at the top of our group by 1 point. We will be giving all our children who want the chance to play the opportunity to represent our school.

Also on Monday, I gave an assembly all about AI. We had a good talk about how long it has been around for – which is longer than you think and we also looked at several images to see if we could tell if they were real or fake! The children did a really good job of spotting the fake ones.

Recently, our Y6 children have been doing their bikeability training for levels 1 and 2. This year, we actually had 12 children achieve level 3 which has never happened before. This entailed them going much further afield for a 2 hour ride. A big achievement!

Mrs Marsh has been in school this week in preparation for coming back before half-term. She has spent time in class getting to know her new children – it has been great having her back at Broomfield.

Our Young Voices choir started their first rehearsals this week too before school on a Thursday. It is already sounding great and there are some excellent songs this year.

Parents Evening booking has gone live now via Arbor and a reminder that if your child has an EHCP or is on the SEN register, you will have a separate meeting with Miss Jex and will be booking in a different way. Any problems – please contact the office.

Have a great weekend.

Miss Allison
